Greetings all,

We have for you in this edition of the EMPA newsletter the nominees that you will be voting on for the respective award categories.

First off as you well know there is no Hall of Fame voting this year. We simply carried over those winners from last year and will make the formal presentation at the 2022 January convention. Don Krietz Jr., Bob Rossell, Bob Frey, Howie Commander and Van May are the honorable recipients.

As for the remaining nominees we ask that you please look over each one carefully before making your vote selection. The nominees we have put together, we feel, are all very worthy. I can assure you it is a painstaking process when narrowing down the list as to who makes the final cut. We take great pride in this and continue to strive at making certain the names or organizations are the absolute best. You may agree with some and others you may not, but please we ask that you cast a vote for them nonetheless.

A reminder to everyone that you must have your 2022 dues paid in order to vote. Dues remain at $50.

There are a few ways to pay which includes by check or through Speedway Illustrated. If you renew through the magazine you'll receive a one-year membership at no extra cost, courtesy of Karl Fredrickson. Go to speedwayillustrated.com then click on Press and you'll see the option to renew your EMPA membership.

If paying by check please make out to Eastern Motorsport Press Association and mail to me:

From Jim Donnelly

Jim has a new outlet, Performance Racing Industry magazine, which represents the hardcore racing parts element of SEMA.

Jim has accepted a continuing responsibility for the section of the magazine that spotlights individual PRI and SEMA personalities, starting with Antron Brown, the three-time NHRA world champion who is starting his own Top Fuel team for 2022. Like Jim, Antron is also a former Burlington County, New Jersey, resident!

Wishing both congratulations and condolences to Steve Ovens. Steve and his wife, Keegan, welcomed their first child, Kole Michael, in September. Just weeks later Steve's father, Stewart, lost his battle against Covid. Facebook photo

Set for its traditional "Saturday after Thanksgiving" date the program will feature presentations on the old Rhinebeck Speedway, the "Wall of Death" motorcycles long seen at fairs and carnivals, unusual racing photos and the story behind them and the late DIRT modified legend "Jumpin' Jack" Johnson. The Johnson segment will feature interviews with relatives and friends of the Fonda Speedway king and a video interview with his son, Ronnie, a great driver in his own right. ### Al Holbert Memorial EMPA National Driver of the Year

JOHN FORCE –

From the most absolute modest of beginnings, John Force combined his love of drag racing and relentless determination to become a 16X NHRA champion.

As a child he lived in logging camps, Indian reservations, migrant farms, and trailer parks. He survived childhood polio with therapy and perseverance of his mother and family. His start in drag racing was so bad, starter Larry Sutton banned him as a safety risk to everyone. He didn't win for nine years. Today, he's the winningest driver in NHRA history.

Today, he is also an incredible representative of the sport who is dedicated to fans and sponsors with the enthusiasm of a racer just starting out. He said, "Once you've been broke, it's in you. It never goes away. You can never rest. The sky is always falling."

Aside from on-track success, Force has suffered serious personal injury and team tragedy with the loss of driver Eric Medlin. Force used the grief to make all drag race cars safer.

KYLE LARSON –

One of the most common headlines in motorsports this season was "Kyle Larson wins again."

Larson is considered one of the most talented race car drivers in America today. The Elk Grove, California native returned to the NASCAR Cup Series this year driving for Hendrick Motorsports and with his season ending victory at Phoenix Raceway – his 10th of the season and the 10th at a track where he had never won before – became a deserving series champion at 29-years-old,

Included with his 10 wins was a run of three in a row and is the first driver to achieve that feat since Dale Earnhardt Sr., in 1987. He also had 10 top-5s and 26 top-10s and led 2581 laps in 36 starts which was tops among all drivers.

Larson is not only topped the made NASCAR storylines but on the short track scene as well. He won his second consecutive Chile Bowl Midget Nationals and has won across the Nation in Sprints and Late Models.

In 2020 he put together one of the most impressive seasons ever in dirt track racing racking up an impressive 46 wins in 97 attempts.

BRANDON OVERTON –

127,000-to-win 100-lappers — to pocket $273,000. But the 30-year-old from Evans, Ga., won plenty more, turning his campaign into arguably the best — and richest — in the history of the Dirt Late Model division.

Running an independent schedule for Kentucky team owner David Wells, Overton's ledger through the end of October showed 29 victories among 56 top-five and 67 top-10 finishes in 78 starts.

His triumphs came at 16 tracks in 12 states and on six different series (Lucas Oil, World of Outlaws, Xtreme DIRTcar, Southern All Star, Spring Nationals, Ultimate Southeast).

His major wins included the two Dreams, Eldora's 51st World 100 ($54,000), Florence, Ky.'s North-South 100 ($50,000), Texas Motor Speedway's Texas Dirt Nationals ($50,000), Cherokee, S.C.'s Rock Gault Memorial ($40,000), Lernerville, Pa.'s Firecracker 100 ($30,000), Cochran, Ga.'s Gobbler 100 at Cochran, Ga. ($20,000), Virginia Motor's King of the Commonwealth ($20,000), The Dirt Track at Charlotte's Carolina Sizzler ($20,000) and East Alabama's National 100 ($20,000).

Overton's first-place winnings entering the month of November totaled $695,575 with his overall earnings exceeding $850,000 — and with several big-money events still on his 2021 schedule (including a possible $100,000 prize in mid-November at The Dirt Track at Las Vegas Motor Speedway), his chances of achieving a $1 million season as a dirt racer remained alive.

ALEX PALOU –

Alex Palou clinched his first NTT INDYCAR SERIES championship with a composed drive to fourth place at the season ending Acura Grand Prix of Long Beach on September 26.

Palou became the first Spaniard to win an INDYCAR SERIES championship and is Chip Ganassi Racing's second consecutive title winner and 14th INDYCAR SERIES champion overall.

This is his first season with the powerhouse team in the No. 10 NTT DATA Chip Ganassi Racing Honda, joining CGR after his rookie season in 2020, when he finished 16th in the standings.

Said team owner Chip Ganassi: "Ladies and gentlemen, you're seeing a young man that's going to set a lot of records in this business, and he's already starting. What a great year we've had. I've got to be honest with you: It has surprised us when he came in the door and the job he's done. My hat's off. Congratulations."

In the most definitive sign of the youth movement this season in the series, Palou, 24, is the first NTT INDYCAR SERIES champion younger than 25 since current teammate Scott Dixon in 2003. Palou is the seventh-youngest champion in INDYCAR SERIES history. He won three times this season which included Barber Motorsports Park, Road America and Portland.

BRAD SWEET –

Brad Sweet closed out the 2021 World of Outlaw NOS Energy Drink Sprint Car season only having to show up at the World Finals the weekend of November 4 through 6 at Charlotte to earn this third overall and third consecutive WoO point championships in the Kasey Kahne Racing NAPA Auto Parts Maxim No. 49.

Sweet joins Steve Kinser and Donny Schatz as the only drivers to win three or more consecutive WoO sprint titles. Also, he's now just the fourth driver in the 43-year history of the Series to have three or more titles — a list that includes Kinser, Schatz and Sammy Swindell.

Starting with his first full time season on the Outlaw Tour in 2014, Sweet has won at least 5 features every year to date, capturing 67 of his 74 total career WoO feature wins. He won 12.3% of the events he competed in during that time and 10.2% of the WoO events he competed in during his career.

He ends the season with 16 wins — tying his career-high for the most wins in a season — 47 top-fives and 64 top-10s behind the wheel of his NAPA Auto Parts #49.

Ryan Preece –

In 2021 Ryan Preece ignited his 'razzle dazzle' to win in both NASCAR's Camping World Truck Series and Whelen Modified Tour Series. His full-time ride in NASCAR's Cup series didn't deter the 30-year-old from Connecticut. Rather, he used whatever spare time he had to support other divisions and tracks.

He made his Camping World Truck series debut at Nashville in June and parked the #17 in victory lane. He became just the 5th driver in history to win his debut truck series race.

Preece also remained a fierce and feared competitor in an open wheel modified in 2021. He won 3 Whelen Modified Tour races (Loudon, Stafford, Richmond). The victory at Richmond represented his 3rd consecutive win of the companion race there.

Ryan's love of modified racing played out all year. In February, minutes after qualifying for the Daytona 500, Preece drove to New Smyrna Speedway in time to make the John Blewett III Memorial. While he had to start last, his run to the front was memorable and took him to victory lane.

In April he took advantage of an off weekend for the Cup series, running and winning at South Boston Speedway.

During the August weekend in Watkins Glen, Preece flew to Stafford to compete in the Whelen Tour event. He won, returned to the Glen, and drove to Chemung on Saturday to support the ROC show there. He finished 2nd in that one before returning to the Glen. On Sunday it was back to Cup racing on the famed road course. Later in August Preece again flew to Stafford, where he supported his home track and won an open show on a Friday night.

Preece is a winner who hasn't forgotten his racing roots, and his performances in 2021 proved it.

Richie Evans Memorial EMPA Northeast Dirt Driver of the Year

LANCE DEWEASE –

Lance Dewease earned his seventh title at Williams Grove Speedway in the 410 Sprint Cars in 2021. It was accomplished with the team of car owner Don Kreitz Jr. and mechanic Davey Brown who fielded their signature blue No. 69K.

Choosing to compete in specific events, not weekly, Dewease drove to 15 "podium" finishes at the Grove in 20 races. He had four wins there, including the "Davey Brown Tribute" and "Mitch Smith Memorial," and now has 100 at the Grove in his career.

It was a total team championship at the Grove. It was Brown's 10th while turning the wrenches (he received the Mechanic of the Year award); while Kreitz earned his fifth title as a car owner. The first four in that category for Kreitz were accomplished when he was also the driver of his No. 69K.

The team also made their presence known on the circuit, with Dewease winning the Bob Weikert Memorial at Port Royal Speedway with the All Star Circuit of Champions. That came on Davey Brown's 87th birthday!

STEWART FRIESEN –

38-year old Stewart Friesen of Sparkers, NY not only put together a 30-plus winning season but in doing so closed out 2021 as the Northeast's overall winningest driver among dirt and asphalt short track racers. This marked the second consecutive year of achieving that feat.

30 of those wins came in the big block Modifieds and all but 10 starts were in the form of a top-5 finish. Included among his triumphs are victories with the Short Tack Super Series including the Speed Showcase 200 at Port Royal Speedway and Fonda (Speedway) 200 Weekend, DIRTcar Nationals, and the Super DIRTcar Series.

Friesen was once again doing his bidding with the potent No. 44 HFR team. With that same team he also ran the entire NASCAR Gander RV & Outdoors Truck Series and just narrowly missed making the cut for the final four in the quest for that series championship.

GREGG SATTERLEE –

Gregg Satterlee of Indiana, Pa., continued to establish himself as one of the Northeast's top Dirt Late Model drivers, authoring a 2021 season totaling 11 victories at seven tracks in his home region and beyond.

He shined at Port Royal Speedway (four wins in 11 starts) and in United Late Model Series-sanctioned action (five wins, two seconds and a third in eight appearances), but also excelled in national-level competition.

The 37-year-old pilot of family-owned equipment registered four triumphs worth $10,000, including preliminary feature wins during the Dream and World 100 weekends at Ohio's Eldora Speedway; Aug. 20's World of Outlaws Morton Buildings Late Model Series A-main at Williams Grove Speedway; and Sept. 24's ULMS-sanctioned special at Thunder Mountain Speedway.

Satterlee's overall 2021 record showed 23 top-five and 34 top-10 finishes in 53 starts and $67,333 in first-place earnings.

MAT WILLIAMSON –

The dirt modified racer from Ridgeway, Ontario, Canada, 39-year old Mat Williamson continues to do what he does best...win and win big. The 2019 Super DIRTcar Series Champion, "Money Mat" remained good at winning when big purses are up for grabs.

And for 2021 Williamson once again reigned best with the highly touted dirt series as he earned a record 8th Super DIRTcar Series Big-Block Modified championship.

This year he won the Billy Whittaker Cars 200 at NAPA Super Dirt Week for a second consecutive time and pocketed $50,000. Also earlier during Super Dirt week he scored four victories over a six day span winning another $38,000. He banked $60,000 after this year's Eastern States weekend at Orange County Fair Speedway.

In 2021 he scored 22 overall wins, finished the Super DIRTcar Series second in points to Matt Sheppard and earned a Series best $88,850.

New England Race Fuels John Blewett III Memorial EMPA Young Gun Award

BRIGGS DANNER –

19-year old Biggs Danner of Allentown had a busy and breakout season in 2021 running with the USAC East Coast Sprints Cars, USAC All-Pro SpeedSTRs, 600cc Micro Sprints, 358 Modifieds and TQ Midgets.

With USAC he had a series best nine wins (Bridgeport, Bedford, Grandview, Selinsgrove, Action Track USA, Georgetown, Bloomsburg, Port Royal) and racked up 15 top-5s and 19 top-10s in 22 starts while taking a runner-up in points.

He also notched the Fast Time Award with the USAC National Series at Grandview Speedway during the Keystone Invasion.

At Action Track USA he collected three feature wins, had multiple fast times and earned the 2021 championship. He also won with the SpeedSTR at Bridgeport Speedway.

With the 600cc Micro Briggs won the Hyper Racing 600 Speedweek feature at Greenwood Valley Action Track and set fast time out of a field of 97.

He raced his Modified only limited but still garnered a pair of top-10s and pair of heat wins as well as making indoor starts with TQ Mid Midget.

In 2013 was USAC ¼-Midget Dirt National champion in Light World Formula and Senior Honda. Won USAC Dirt National Light 160 title in 2014. 2015 was QMA Eastern Grands National Senior champ. Was named as 2016 Checkered Flag Fan Club (CFFC) Open Wheel Rookie of the Year and in 2018 was CFFC Most Improved Open Wheel Driver of the Year. In his USAC East Coast Sprint debut in 2020 he won feature at Bridgeport and also won SpeedSTR championship there that same year.

JUSTIN GROSSO –

Young teenager Justin Grosso has quickly advanced through the ranks in New Jersey dirt racing! He had many victories in Quarter-Midgets at his local Garden State Club track at NJ's Wall Stadium at age five; and kept up the winning pace in national events.

As soon as he reached his mid-teens, he began racing and winning in local dirt Sportsman Modified competition.

This year, in the family No. 13R, he was Sportsman champion at NJ's New Egypt Speedway. Also racing in its separate Crate Sportsman class with the No. J24, he was runner-up in those standings.

At New Egypt's All Star Weekend in October, Grosso won his sixth Sportsman feature. Overall at the track it was his 12th of 2021 as it included six Crate Sportsman triumphs.

Next for Justin will be the Modifieds, a division in which his older brother, 2017 EMPA Young Gun honoree Brandon Grosso, has excelled.

Their dad, former Modified driver Rick Grosso, has guided their careers, always emphasizing professionalism with fans and media.

DALLON MURTY –

Dallon Murty had a breakout year in 2021. The Chelsea, IA youngster had just beat his second-place finishing father, Damon, to win the Stock Car Championship at the legendary Bristol (TN) Motor Speedway half-mile oval after it was converted to a dirt track this spring.

Dallon slept for 11 of the 12-hour-haul home, but woke to the sound of fire trucks leading the family's hauler down Main Street. Neighbors came to the sidewalks cheering their hometown hero.

Beating dear ol' dad with his hand-me-down race car at the year's most-talked about dirt race was the start of a list of stellar triumphs.

In May, he won the inaugural Whole Hog 50 that paid $5000 at Stuart (IA) Speedway. At year's end, he topped a record 222 Stock-Car-class entries to become the youngest Super Nationals champion in the 39-year-history of the event. This, too, paid $5000 to win.

Equally, the younger Murty duplicates his father's reputation as a quiet, respectful, gentleman who lets his racing do the talking.

"It's usually just me and Dad out in the shop," says Dallon. "I really like spending that time with him. There's more to racing for me than the actual racing."

GARRETT ZACHARIAS –

Young Gun Garrett Zacharias from Candor, NY has a racing resume that many envy. Success at every stage culminated in 2021 with amazing accomplishments.

Born premature and in need of open-heart surgery at 71 days of age, he began his racing journey at age 5 in a Microd. He won that first year and went on to win multiple state and track championships while with the Southern Tier Microd Club.

At age 11 he moved into an INEX Bandolero. In addition to 30+ wins in PA and NY and three consecutive championships at Chemung Speedrome, he finished 4th in national Bandolero points in 2016 at age 12. He also went on to win the NY State Bandolero championship in 2018 at age 14.

Garrett then moved up to a Super Stock AND won two races in his rookie season. This year he was dubbed one of the best stock car racers in NY State for his many wins.

He set out in 2021 with two goals – win the Super Stock championship at Chemung, and win the traveling New York Super Stock (NYSS) championship. On championship night at Chemung he claimed his division-leading 8th feature and earned the track title over a veteran racer. The next two weeks he won back-to-back NYSS races at Oswego and Wyoming Co. International and he earned the NYSS championship.

The grandson of ‘Gentleman Jim’ Zacharias may have had a challenging start, but he’s now the one challenging all the others who try to finish ahead of him.

Chris Economaki Memorial EMPA Newsmaker of the Year Award

BLOOMSBURG RACEWAY –

For the first time in 34 years race cars roared around the historic Bloomsburg Fairgrounds albeit on a brand new 3/8th mile dirt oval that was built inside the old 1/2-mile cinder track.

Formerly the track hosted races each year during the annual Bloomsburg Fair from 1922 through 1985 and in front of a packed house. Standalone events were held until 1987.

Last year the fair board voted to bring back motor racing and made a huge investment to the facility that included the new layout, lights, sound system and more. Both national and local touring groups were brought in and despite the limited number of shows, the track continued to be a positive work in progress.

BUBBA WALLACE –

Darrell “Bubba” Wallace drives the No. 23 Toyota Camry for the new Michael Jordan and Denny Hamlin owned 23XI Racing team in the NASCAR Cup Series.

In 2021, Wallace became the first black driver to win a race in NASCAR’s premier series since Hall of Famer Wendell Scott took the checkered flag at Speedway Park in Jacksonville, Fla., on Dec. 1, 1963.

ANDY JANKOWIAK –

In 2021 this newsmaker accomplished what even he had only dreamed about just months earlier. 33 year-old Andy Jankowiak wasn’t widely known when the year started, but, his national exposure changed all that.

The pizza delivery guy by day is a car-building, dream-chasing, focused young man who works tirelessly on his racing goals. His unique style and mannerisms, plus operating on his own as an underfunded team, attracted media attention all year. That exposure resulted in his ability to secure sponsorships from companies such as Phillips 66 and Thermal Foam so he could compete at one of racing’s highest levels.

But ‘Andy J’ didn’t stop there. He made news this year when he finished a dream ‘modified build’ he began in 2017. That car, along with other open wheel modifieds he owns or runs, took him to victory lane at several different tracks. Headline stories document that he set new records in the process. In early September, an ROC press release referred to ‘Andy J’ as “arguably the hottest guy on both the ROC and Sportsman Series.” He later became just the second driver to sweep both the Modified and Sportsman Race of Champions events at Lake Erie Speedway.

After his driving days Steve became involved in a behind the scenes in many aspects from scorer, radio, seating and just about anything else he could do in being an integral part of the Port Royal's success and history. Basically whatever needed to be done Steve would be all in and ready to lend a hand.

Admittedly the staff of Port Royal acknowledges that his unwavering commitment has played a key role to the ongoing success of the renowned speedway.

And as a side note did you know that the popular phrase "PA Posse" was coined by Steve!

After 70 years in the sport and over 5000 races attended, Steve has had to step away as a result of needing to focus on his health and family.

EMPA Promotional Effort of the Year Award

ACT/PASS SERIES –

As 2020 drew to a close, the future at Thompson (CT) Speedway looked bleak, but an announcement from an unlikely alliance in October gave hope that the high banks would roar in 2021.

The American-Canadian Tour (ACT) and Pro All Stars Series (PASS) had been collaborating in recent years and announced a six-event schedule including an all-new division, the Thompson Outlaw Open Modified Series. Among the schedule's highlights was the return of the Thompson 300.

BRETT DEYO/BD MOTORSPORTS MEDIA LLC –

Brett Deyo and his BD Motorsports Media LLC once again had a superb year with his Short Track Super Series (STSS).

No matter where the popular dirt Modified touring group showed up there were full pit areas, great competition and some very lucrative purse structures while vying for a high-paying series point funds.

The STSS raced regularly in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware while making inroads with visits to both Florida and Louisiana.

The STSS was the only Northeast dirt Modified series to present two events offering $50,000-plus to win annually: one at Port Royal Speedway in Pennsylvania and another at Fonda Speedway in New York.

Joining the big-block/small-block Modifieds, the STSS presents a touring series for the Crate 602 Sportsman division as well with incredible car counts to boot.

Aside from its touring series, the STSS manages the American Racer Cup, a home-track program rewarding drivers for competing regularly at home tracks utilizing American Racer tires.

ELDORA SPEEDWAY/TONY STEWART –

What does a track promoter do when three of the country's premier dirt track races, run annually at his track, are knocked off the track's schedule in a single season due to the Covid-19 pandemic?

Well. Tony Stewart, instead of accepting the cancellation of three annual big events in 2020, doubled down at Eldora Speedway this year.

He postponed the 26th annual Late Model Dream, the 50th annual Sprint Kings Royal and the 50th annual Late Model World 100 to this season. By doubling down, he elected to run two of each of these annual classics during the weeks they are usually scheduled.
